Building upon the previous studio, the study of PLACE continues to provide focus for studies in the region of Greater Sudbury. Design skills, including measured drawing, comparative scales of different types of sites, and site modelling in detail are emphasized. The theme of place continues to be recorded and understood at a variety of scales, including the geology of Sudbury and the 19th-century rail town. Emphasis is on developing a complex understanding of the place we are in through case studies and design exercises that introduce the concept of place-making within Sudbury and environs. PREREQ: ARCH 1505. Cet atelier qui fait suite au précédent se concentre lui aussi sur la région du Grand Sudbury et met l'accent sur les compétences en conception, notamment les dessins mesurés, les échelles comparatives de différents types de sites et la modélisation en détail. Le thème du lieu est encore enregistré et compris à diverses échelles, y compris celles de la géologie de Sudbury et de la forêt boréale. L'accent porte sur l'acquisition d'une compréhension complexe du lieu où nous nous trouvons au moyen d'études de cas et d'exercices de conception qui introduisent le concept de création de lieux à Sudbury et dans les environs. Prérequis: ARCH 1505. (10,5 h) 6 cr.
